Although two of the other parties unite I on a "labor candidate" to mix up the voters, the Social-Democrats of Sweden have just triumphantly car-ried the third d'striet of Stockholm by nearly 3.000 majority.

"Subway sprinkled with bils of flesh—Remnants of track walkers often found along the rails," reads a headline in a New York paper, bearing fresh evidence of the insecurity and cheapuress of human life in the capi-talist era. In Milwaukee the new So-cialist cornner is getting at the full facta in such cases and capitalism is beginning to tremble before the searchlight.

Robert Hunter, national executive eommitteeman of the national party, whose articles in The Herald have been read with such eagerness by our circle of readers, has emerged intact from a surgical operation and has gone to North Carolina for sevmonths. It is expected that he will be able to resume his literary and propaganda work within a few months at most.

One of the most pathetic pictures printed in a long time was a snap-ahot appearing in Leslie's Weckly of a tenement house Christmas tree. picture shows a little boy and girl who have rigged up a Christmas tree out of a broom resting in a coal hod. From cross sticks fastened on with atrings were anspended some trumatrings were anspended some trum-pery trinkets. It was a real tree to the children, but the girl turned her bead when the picture was taken. Leslie's claims that its reporter came apon the scene and that the photo was unposed and exactly as shown.

The Railway World makes no bones abour it. It says the street railways must go into polities—of course they are not in polities now, O, no! Says The World!

"Socialism has grown immense-ly in our great cities; the demand for municipal ownership is on the increase; atreet railway corporations are more and more har-rassed by the public officials who believe it to be popular to abuse the railroads; investments in street railways are seriously affected by the public clamor. The street railway interests and the whole husiness interests and the conotry have NOTHING TO GAIN BY STAYING OUT OF POLITICS."

There is no doubt that Socialism is putting the cause of the people so persistently to the fore that the adroit and wary traction manipulators are truly alarmed. In some cities they are putting thousands of dollars in advertising to tell the people what great benefactors of theirs thry are. The people read their foxy and only statements and simply smile.

Their greatest hope is politics, without a doubt. And non-partisan schemes, and commission schemes and all sorts of things to keep the real people from getting control have their quiet sauction, and the people will have to keep their eyes wide open. When the Ballway Wotld speaks of the companies going into politics

The printing department of The reald is being moved to the new liding and there may be some debuilding and there mey be some de-lays next week that will make the pa-per late. We ask as a great favor that Herald readers bear batiently that Heraid readers bear passently with the and that they do not at once send in letters complaining of the nto-crival of the paper, as a flood of several hundred such letters means an extra tax on the time of our office force, who are now pretty wall burdened with work accumulated during the transfer of the business office to the new building two weeks ago. You will get your paper all right, even if a day or so later than usual. Taxes in the Past-Taxes Today-and Taxes in the Future

N early days free men did not pay any taxes. To pay taxes was a sign of aubjugation. Only conquered nations and vanquished classes had to pay tribute to some king or some conquerors.

Ruling nations and ruling classes in times of old not only paid no tax nor tribute of any kind, but they were in the habit of exacting tribute and taxes from others. This was the case in spelent civilizations.

In the middle ages, the feudal barons, knights, bishops, abbots and the members of the church were also free from all taxation. The serfs and hurghers paid all the taxes. The elergy received a tenth of everything—the so-called "tithes." The nobillty often took even more.

Nor was this all. In Germany and Italy the nobility was in the habit of building castles beside the highways or the rivers and exacting as much toll and tax from the travelers "as the traffic would bear," and often more.

The idea of taxation has undergone a change during the last fifty years. To pay taxes has become a part of civilization and a badge of honor.

Only the indirect tax is still a tribute to the lords-the modern lords, the trusts and the big manufacturers. They still take as much as they please—as the "traffic will bear," and often more.

However, the direct tax is now a kind of co-operative investment in a busine conducted collectively-whether by a city, a county, a state, or a nation. Taxes make undertakings possible which individuals cannot accomplish.

The individuals get together for common protection against the ravages of the elements, of enemies or of disease.

They MUST get together for roads, streets, water, sewerage, schools, lighting and such other state or municipal husiness, as the commonwealth, be it small or large, can do better than the individual, or which the individual could not do at all.

That is the modern idea of taxation.

However, our capitalist class still seems to cling to the old idea of ages gone by that taxation is a tribute. And being lords they do no want to pay any tribute.

But they also seem to eling to the idea that the common mass is here to pay tribute to them and to pay it for them.

No real, full-fledged member of the capitalist class ever pays taxes if he can possibly dodge it. To bim it is an insult-an insult to his pocket-book.

And the same big business man, who would consider it a disgrace to cheat another business man out of $500, will think it a sacred duty to defraud the city or the state out of $50,000 of taxes if he can possibly do so. And since this country is nominally a democracy, where everybody who has property is supposed to contribute to the expenses of the commonwealth, our espitalists as a class have become a class of perjurers, liers and tax-dodgers. The exceptions only prove the rule.

But the members of the capitalist class not only hide their actual wealth and perjure themselves, but they want to make an accomplice of the small bourgeois if pos-

The small shop-keeper also hates to pay taxes. Not because they amount to very much, but because to him the taxes represent a tribute to the politicians, and therefore the politician who requires the smallest tribute looks best to him, even if that politician should steal. The city or state is not a co-operative establishment to the small bourgeois—it is an enemy that looks out for full weight when he sells coal, bread,

The small bourgeois is still very numerous. And the capitalist class and their

The small bourgeois is still very numerous. And the capitalist class and their attorneys in court and press speculate very shrewdly on the ignorance of the average small shop-keeper as to the purpose of taxation. And they speculate on his parsimony.

Thus every hig capitalist is always willing that the small shop-keeper should save $13 in taxes so that the hig capitalist may save $50,000. Let the streets, the schools and the parks, the education and the health of the working class go to H-ades, as long as a few dellars are saved thereby. That is the basis of the alliance of the hig capitalists and the lower middle class on the tax question.

The trouble is only that so many workingmen get their wisdom from the small shop-keeper or the saloon-keeper, who in turn, gets it from the capitalist press.

But here are the facts as to taxation, not only for this city, but for every other city

The capitalist class, with the help of the small bourgeois, have limited taxation to the utmost. They have not only limited taxation, but also the objects for which taxation can be used, so at to protect capitalist graft in monopolies and public business.

Thus, for instance, the only business the city can undertake in Milwaukee, besides public achools, is the business of supplying the inhabitants with water.

And this has proved an excellently paying business, although water is incredibly

Yet the city is forbidden to embark in any other public business because that might interfera with the "legitimata" graft of big business.

As a rule only such business as the big capitalists considered unprofitable, the city is permitted to take up. For instance streets, sewerage, etc. And even there everything must be let out to the contractors.

Because holy above all else is the "graft." And the city is not to interfere with any kind of graft—if the capitalist class can help it.

And that is also the reason why the tax limit is set down at 14 mills on a thou dollars, although it is a well known fact, and has been known for years, that the 14 embraking in other public business besides furnishing water, the city could make money enough for all its wants.

In the past, capitalist administrations helped themselves over the constant deficit by liberal drafts on the water fund and by using bond money for current expenses. In Milwaukee the drafts on various funds, and mainly the water funds, for that purpose since 1906 amount to $640,000

Moreover, the city of Milwaukee in its corporate capacity was obligated to its treasury by Dec. 31, 1910, to the tune of $389,787.77.

That is a deficit inherited by this administration from its predecessors.

In the past, the Dave Rose administration usually made a swindling budget by asking less than the 14 mill limit and by making debts to cover up the deficiency. Thus for instance, in 1908 the Dave Rose administration asked for $94,479.34 less than the 14 mill limit. But this was made up three times over by making new debts and by diverting, for instance, $250,000 from the water fund in 1908, and $100,000 from the water fund in 1909 for general city purposes, although this was clearly illegal.

Purthermore, they were in the habit of carrying over obligations contracted in one wear into the next year or next years for payment.

Thus, for instance, the obligations for contracts on park lands were permitted to mulate since 1890 in such a manner that the Social-Democratic administration this year has to pay $354,000 in a lump for land contracts made in 1890.

this the insufficient revenue from permits, licenses and excise generally, and you will get a picture of the city finances.

Yet all this trils only part of the story. Over $200,000,000 of property is exempt from city taxation by law. And a still larger sum escapes taxation by "dodging." In order to get these tax-dodgers, the city made a contract to angage "tax ferrets." But idgers were not to be bunted and caught without showing their teeth. The taxdgers, therefore, took out an "Injunction."

Why any honest taxpayers should be afraid of tax ferrets is not quite clear.

Yet there is a general outcry against high taxes this year. Now, the present administration is not responsible for most of the tax levy of this year. That was fixed by the previous administration.

But considering the above circumstances, it will be unjust to hold us responsible even for next year's tax levy, the first one that will be made under Social-Democratic

Now, what is to be done?

In the first place, we need education and enlightenment on the tax question. Wa do not propose to aducate the capitalist class. That is enlightened amough on this question. But we propose to educate the proletariat and the lower middle class.

As to the prolatarians-let every workingman, whether he owns property or not,

Not only because the workingman produces everything, and all the expenditures of the nation, state and city are paid out of tha surplus value of the labor of the producers, from the profits made on this labor—and the living of the capitalist class besides.

Not only for that reason.

But also for the reason that the workingman pays indirect taxes every time he buys a coat, z shirt, a pair of shoes or a glass of beer.

And also for the reason that he pays city taxes directly avery time he pays his rent. He is a very important partner in this co-operative business of the city, ster-

Therefore, the workingman, whether he owns a house or not, is entitled to good access, reverse, a look, parks, Robbing, fire and a thousand other things.

And he ought to demand them.

And he will demand them peaceably and legally at first—and next with threats of the most terrible revolution the world has ever seen, if peaceable means should not

I do not went to go into details—I shall only remind our readers that the French revolution did not stop at abolishing the "tithes" and changing the feudal tax system. So much for the working class.

However, to the small business man we also say that this question can only be solved from a Socialist point of view—by putting the burden of taxation where it

It is ridiculous for the small business man and the shop-keeper to line up with the big tax-dodgers. If the small business man is so big an arx as to be bribed with a few pairry dollars less of taxes now and then and thus save millions to the big capitalists every year, then be deserves to pay high taxes as long as he issts—and finally be ground down in the mill of competition.

We want the small business man and the shop-keeper to study the situation and line up with the proleteriat, from whom, by the way, they make their living.

Now, to wind up-remember:

community in the world today.

Firstly, the taxes can only be made smaller if nobody dodges bis share—and

Firstly, the taxes can only be made smaller if nobody dodges his share—and especially if the rich can be made to pay their share.

Secondly, we can only get money enough to do bigger things in the community if the city gets permission to embark into mora and other municipal undertakings besides furnishing water. If the city gets a chance to do business—and to put certain "big business" out of business, it might soon be in a position to reduce taxes to next orbing like some German cities.

Thirdly, the Social Democrats are not responsible for this year's budget. However, de facto, they will not be responsible for next year's budget, either. Because

ASSEMBLY NOTES By Frederick Brockhausen.

Madison: The assembly met and was opened with an appeal by the chap-lain to furnish an abundance of wis-dom and goodness to the legislators. The Social-Democratic members took twelve seats on the east extreme

After the scating, signing the oath, electing the speaker and other elective officers, the Social propertie members assigned themselves to watching the Republicans make good on their promises, including, of course, such Democrats as have a reputation of heing progressive. The commercial lobbyists have put in some appearance and when not making a fox-like hunt are warming the chairs somewhere in the capitol, or elsewhere.

The usual nomination speeches for elective officers in the assembly were entirely dispensed with and the simple form of nominations and roll calls followed, due to the absence of competition for office outside of the paragraphs.

Milwaukee's Socialist Carnival

For years the Milwaukee SocialDemocrats have held an annual mask caratival in the largest hall available in the city, and it has been one of he sights of the town. This, of course, refers to the carnival of the party as a whole, for there have also been the masks given by the branches attracted to the seene. Beside this, their their same localities. But the life the committee in shore has remed been the masks given by the branches attracted to the scene. Beside this, in their own localities. But the big party carnival has been a thing wonderful to see and for the town to talk about. This year's carnival will take place next week and all previous efforts will be refreshment stands of various kinds, and everything will be made as comfortable as possible.

The present Assurorism building in Bilwaukee stands on the square that was formerly occupied by the Milwaukee Exposition building. This former building was the scene of some of the party's most wonderful masquerades. The last one beld there, prior to the burning down of the great structure, was probably the big-

Vaccination Vindicated

Milwaukec Free Press: In view o the current propaganda against med-ical legislation of the "regular" kind the recent experience of Saginaw Mich., with alismallpoa epidemie may be of interestrick

About the middle of October this dreadful disease made its appearance During the first two days forty-five cases were 'reported in forty-five different families. By Nov. 7, there were 102 cases with twenty-siz all of those first noted were 'of 'the hemorrhagic of confinent type, and nearly all of the deaths were in this class. After the first two days the cases were of the liscrete type.

The course of procedure was as follows: General vaccination was ordered and met with popular favor. Members of the families where the first forty-five cases occurred were immediately vaccinated and quaranfined. All places of public concourse

The points of especial interest in the course of the epidemic as stated in the current number of the Jour nal of the Michigan State Medical So ciety are as follows:

There were no severe cases among patients who had been vaccinated in the past ten years.

Among the families at first strick en, very few of those vaccinated at the time contracted the disease and those who did, escaped with the mild, discrete type.

After the quarantine was estab lished and general vaccination or-dered, the spread of the disease quickly subsided and such cases as there were did not assume a virulent

Dr. Osler's Challenge

A great deal of literature has been distributed casting discredit soon the value of vaccination in the prevension of smallpox. I do not see how any one who has gone through epidemics as I have, or who is familiar with the history of the subject, and who has any capacity left for clear judgmen can doubt its value.-Dr. Osler.

Philadelphia Evening Item: J. W. Hodge, Niagara Falls, N. Y., sends us with his compliments, statistical documents of ap parently great value to all of the per ple, and a little book, by himself, of some thirty-one pages, a reproduction from the Medical Century, entitled "State Inflicted Disease in Our Public Schools," which bears on its cover the words, "Compulsory Vaccination is the Crime of the Century."

After examining these documents we fail to see how any honest perso be he physician, legislator, or just a plain citizen, can for a moment endorse the law of compulsory vaccina

The facts he presents regarding the official caperience of Japan on this subject, alone are sufficient to cause the repeal of every compulsory vacci-nation law in the United States.

Japan is the most completely vacci sated and revaccinated country in th world.

In 1782 vaccination there was mad cor:pulsory,
'hat law was rigidly enforced
among the entire population.

Notwithstanding, subsequently, Iao an suffered many thousands of deaths annually from smallpox, following successful" vaccination.

This huge death roll, instead of dis naying the advocates of sustaining rige industries dependent upon the mainess of vaccination, caused them to demand more vaccinations, or revaccinations and re-revaccinations

The nation's legislative chamber in 1886 passed a more stringent law than the one of 1872, making vaccination every five to seven years.

Between 1886 and 1892, 25,474,370 vaccinations and re-revaceinations and re-revaceinations were officially recorded at having harms.

have again been eloquently vindicated smallpox existed, there were officially.

On our part we thank the good doc-reported 50,000 deaths of people from smallpox, who had been vaccinated and 156,175 cases of smallpox who were also among those who had been

Those figures of deaths amon those having smallpon, 25 per cent, greatly exceed the smallpox death rate of the epoch preceding 1872 in Japan when nobody was vaccinated.

Which goes to show that vaccina tion, instead of lowering the death rate among those having smallpox had increased the death rate.

The provisions of the compulsory law compelled every infant born in the empire to be vaccinated with-in the first year of its birth.

In ease this primary vaccine opera tion proved unsatisfactory, the cine operation must be followed three additional operations within the year. "And, when "successful" vaceinations must be repeated every five to seven years thereafter.

In cases of outbreak of smallpox the authorities rigidly enforce general revaccination, irrespective of previous raccinations.

The results of all the revaccinations are gathered and are statistically published by the government.

During the six years from 1892-97. Japan had 142,032 cases of smallpox in vaccinated cases, 39,535 of whom

"In the one year 1893 there wer 41.898 cases of smallpox which like wise had been vaccinated over over again in most cases-officially reported, 1,852 of which cases result ed in death." In 1806 another act of parliamen was promptly signed by the Mikado, revaccination repeated every five years was made compulsory upon every Japanese subject regardless of his or her station of life. This law was more rigidly enforced than its predecessors, and by aid of severe penalties. Note the result:

During the one following year nearly 42,000 cases of smallpox were officially reported. The ligures for that year of 1897 were 41,946 cases, of which 12,276 died. This is a fatality of about 32 per cent of vaccinated people taken with smallpox, or nearouble the death rate of those afflicted with smallnox before Tenner introduced vaccination and when peo-pte lived in filth and in ignorance of the laws of health.

A double death rate in the face o universal vaccination, What have common sense men a women to say to that official fact?

A special report from Tokio to Dr. Hodge, in addition to the foregoing. states that Japan has had errott cases of smallpox and 49,010 deaths from smallpox in the twenty years 1889-1908. During the year 1908 Japan, according to the language of S. Kubota, director of the sanitary bureau of the empire of Japan, in a personal letter to Dr. Hodge, the number of cases of smallpox officially notified was 18,007 and the officially recorded deaths from that disease were 5.837.

Thus after nearly forty years of accinations and revaccinations, in eases was more than 32 per cent, for cases was more than 20 per cent, or exceeding any other previous reports. Dr. Hodge well says: "In the pres-ence of such convincing proof of the atter bopelessness, and worse than usclessness of vaccination as a preventive of smallpox, where is the sane person who can retain belief in the

To bolster up the cause of the vac-cination advocates, heretofore they have repeatedly denied the recent eatence of any smallpox in Japan. Dr. Hodge exposes those falsifiers

But all that is not the worst of the story. Far from it.

The real deadliness and evil to this question is the malignant diseases introduced into the blood of a healthy person, introduced into that part of a person where he is least able to protect himself, diseases which may take years, more or less, to become outwardly manifest, or kill victims by smallpox.

Progress Edition February 11

For the reason that it is taking longer to get the new four-deck color press set up and running than was anticipated by the company putting it in, the Issuing of the Progress edition of the Social Democratic Herald has been postponed from January 38 to February 11. The orders for that edition are coming in fase from all parts of the country.

Eight page local edition, $t per hundred; $7.50 per thousand. National edition, 75 cents per hundred; $5 per thousand.

Every local and live hustler should order a bundle of the "Progress Edition" for free distribution, and follow it up with a carvass for subscriptions. Remember that Uncle Sam's postmen make the unrest and most effective "bundle brigsde" to distribute your literature if you getthem started right.

Thousands of the people will subscribe for The Herald and thus pay for their own education if you go after them.

The History of the Campaign and Victory We were compelled to postpone the publication of the History of Milwankee Campaign and Victory owing to the fact that our little printing office has been swamped with work. It was impossible to chiarge it or improve it in our old quarters. We are now moving into the new building, where there will be plenty of room for expansion. Thirty thousand dollars' with of new printing machinery is being installed.

The names of all who have sent in the money 16. a club of eight are recorded in a file, and will receive the History as soon as it can be gotten out, which will not be long now.

All who send in $6.50 for a club of eight for the national edition, or $5 for a club of eight for the Wisconsin edition, will receive a copy of the History as soon as we can get it off the press.

New Haven, Conn.—The members of the board of education of the pub-lie schools of this city had the nnique experience last month of avoiding a strike of the janttors in the various schools, by raising by voluntary sub-scription the amount of money demanded by the janitors as extra com-pensation for overtime. A number of oung women who were anable to re-eive instructions during the day were instrumental in having cooking class-es formed for evening instruction dur-ing the fall months. The junitors had repeatedly objected to working over-time, but the school board was unable to secure an increase in their wages. The ultimatum came just before Christmas, and it was one of two things, give up the classes, or pay the janitors. The members of the board oluntarily subscribed the necessary

Chicago, Ill.—The striking garment workers of this city won their victory of any importance when the firm of flart, Schaffner & Marx signed an agreement with the union last Saturday. As a result of the settlement over 10,000 strikers will return to work within ten days, says the Chics-go Daily Socialist. Under the terms of the agreement all former employes of the firm will be taken back and shall be put to work within ten days. There shall be no discrimination of any kind against any of the employes of the firm, because they are or are not members of the United Garment Workers union. An arbitration committee of three members is to he ap-pointed and they shall immediately take up, consider and adjust all griev-ances, the employea may have, and shall fix a method for the settlement of all grievances in the future. The findings of the srbitration committee shall be binding on both parties.

A Remarkable Strike

Under the above heading S. L. Landers, writing in the Weekly Bulletin of the Clothing Trades has the following to say of the Garment Workers' strike:

The Garment Workers' strike in the solidarity of the workers in sny industry is concerned.

the year 1909. While this has been known to the attaches of the health department, it has not been known to the general public, the popular impression being that the detention hospitals, which have been regarded by many with deep-seated aversion, were in charge of all cases of infectious as well as contagious diseases, and were in some manner partly responsible for the spread of these diseases.

The discovery just made will probably have an important bearing upon the attitude of the administration towards the proposed new detention hospital, for never has an erroneous impression more thoroughly exploded than it has by the facts referred to.

The report of the health department or the year 1909, pages 65 to 71, in clusive, shows that there were for that year a total of 835 cases of dightheria in the city, and 13a deaths! 1,801 cases of searlet fever, with 191 deaths; 437 eases of typhoid fever, with 78 deaths; 1.938 cases of measles, with 27 deaths; 206 cases of smallpox, with no deaths; 202 cases of whooping cough, with 16 deaths, and 730 cases of tuberculosis with 306 deaths. The total number of contagious and infectious diseases deaths 434. Of this number only 510 eases were admitted to the detention hospitals, and there were reported from these hospitals only 56 deaths.

This has thrown an entirely differ-tion hospitals of the city cared for less than in per cent of the contagious and infectious diseases of the city in a modern hospital than in z residence, and that the danger to the dence, and that the danger to the community when the patient is in a hospital is generally greatly lessened. It, therefore, seems that the location of a detention bospital in the city located, since all eases may be trans ferred to the hospital, and the families thus be relieved of the inconveniences and dangers of infection at home. The report of the health depart ment for 1909, page 132, shows that that year for searlet fever, and 620 for dipbtheria, besides two for small-pox. Each of these hom a, therefore, was a detention hospital for a are located in close proximity to other residences, the dauger to the com-munity, such as it is, must be far greater than if the patients had been

Another interesting discovery is that there was not a single death in Milwaukee from smallpox in the year 1910, thus making two consecutive years in which the city has been free from this fatality. In the same period there have been possibly fifty deaths from that commonly tolerated all-ment, the measles, however. The smallpox bugaboo, therefore, is not likely to have much weight in determining whether a detention hospital shall be erected in any given section

This has thrown an entirely different aspect upon the detention hospital work in Milwaukee, which has been associated in the public mind too often with the smallpox scare of a dozen or more years ago, when as a matter of fact, smallpox is becoming, a rara avis, while thousands of eases of infectious diseases are scattered in homes and hospitals throughout the city. If the city administration were to follow the suggestions of some who there is now a demand that it be provided with an emergency ward, and south siders, especially are demands in manding that the building so long in the coarse described because their leaders found fault with our institutions and our laws. ## How the District Attorney's Office Was Turned Over Probably few people in Milwankee county know that the new district attorney, Winfred C. Zabel, met with discourtery when he assumed his office, yet such is the fact, to put it mildly. It appears that McGee and hi force was every bit as little as Fred. Cords and his subordinates.

It was quite important for the interests of the county and its people that the district attorney's office should be turned over to the new officials in perfect order, with the records in their proper places and ready to hand for the men who were to take np the county's work in this important de-partment. Instead of this being the case, Dist. Atty, Zabel found the rooms in confusion and dirt, no one there to point out pending matters or where important papers were to be found. Records were strewn about the atmosphere seemed to be still laden with the spite and pettiness of the small individuals who had vaeated. Nothing daunted the new of department looked like the ahode of day a visitor to any of the office would never dream that there has been any trouble or confusion.

The Non-Partisan Game

The anything-to-beat the Socialists frenzy on the part of a certain few eminently representative and "disinterested" lovers of "good government" broke loose very entertainingly at that civic meeting at St. James church Tuesday evening.

One Louis Bohmrich, sometime Democratic candidate for covernor

Denocratic candidate for governor, did the most to let the eat out of the bag. He showed what was in his mind! It was the pesky Social-Democrats. He said he did not like them because their leaders found fault with her institutions and our laws.

Later, when the meeting was over, Bohmrich was overheard in the cloak room declaring that 'I don't want au-archists around mee"

It would play into the hands of the wealth interests, since a candidate to stand aby show as a non-partisan would have to spend lots of slough, and would better have to be rich or get it where it can be had. An Humane Suggestion.

Believing that hardships' result to working people from the fact that when they are quarantined on account of contagious diseases, because many of them do not like to ask for what looks to them like charity, Health Commissioner Kraft advocates that the city pay a stated wage to every person placed in quarantine by the city.

Mr. Kraft argues that a person is placed under quarantine, not for his own and his family's good, but for the good of society and that society should therefore give him, as a right; the sustenance he would otherwise be these were deaths resulting from accidents, one was a suicide and the other a death from canses unknown.

The capitalist masters of this city are becoming decidedly measy over the fact that the verdiets rendered by coroner's juries at present are not what they used to be.

Several verdiets placing the responsibility for deaths from accidents at the doors of the masters have already been rendered. In the case of Win.

J. They, a switchman who was killed while on duty, a jury Monday returned a verdiet to the effect that decased came to his death from being placed in a too hazardous position while in the performance of his duties.

The verdict in this case exonerated the driver of the auto although it was shown that well pleased with the method in which the speed of the machine was above examination papers are marked by the speed limit shortly preceding the accident.

The new Mrs. David S. Rose, formerly a star in a Merry Widow company, has been appearing in a henefit performance at Grand Rapids, Mich. Interviewed in the papers, she said, among other things, the following:

him."
What is Milwankee's loss is Rose

City Clerk Thompson is a wellknown chantauqua and lyceum lec-turer. Before his election he had eontracts signed with a hureau for over wo months of dates. Upon accepting his present position, he at once arranged with the bureau to cancel every possible date. The remainder he is now filling by giving up the time usually allowed the officials for vacations in both the years of his term of office, and putting in that time filling the dates.

The political docs have broken loose again. Why let slip the does of war? Back comes the echo: Doc Bading!

Ou what corporation retainers does this our Bohmrich feed that he has become so great—as a reactionary and alarmist?

Dr. Lemon was one of the reputable physicians who called on the mayor against the health commissioner. Which is certainly amusing.

The citizens as well as the street being the political manager tor Dave Rose through several dirty campaigns, thruce was suddenly picked up by the goo-goo reformers as a very virtuous citizen and the reform organs sugar-coated the dose for the people to swallow, and they almost swallowed it. It's much the same with Schnitz. After for years being a Democratic campaigner, with all that that implies, lo and behold, he now hath wings and is being sugar-coated in the same way by the same type of reformers and reform newspapers. The old, old game, ever new!

The district attorney is preparing to have the court records in the Heisdorf case straightened out. When McGec dismissed the bogus case against Dr. Rucker he songht to square himself by reading into the record all the stuff he could to besmirch the name of Dr. Rucker—a high-handed and unheard of proceeding. This mass of fonl stuff still stands in the records, but District Attorney Zahel will put it squarely up to the judges to follow the law and clear it away, and to thus render tardy justice to the good name of the former health commissioner.

The Socialists apotted him as a political fraud, however, and time has shown they were right.

Conny de Cork was real ente (and divilish sly) at Wednesday's council meeting, when he suggested that the Socialists use the ash collection money to beip the unemployed. Thought he'd catch us with moldy corn! Throwing the ash men out of jobs to give jobs to others, was certainly a hrilliant idea!

The talk in certain papers about the district attorney investigating the district attorney investigating the district attorney investigating the farmers as to an alleged nilk combine is just talk. If he wanted to, he couldn't, as the milk producers are were all working in the interests of has these "disinterested" doctors were all working in the interests of the Catholic hospitals? The papers have all sought to keep these facts away from the people and to make them think the opposition to the city hospital was on the square. So that again the city papers are convicted of working against the public interest. It is to smile. Attorney Desmond, m explaining the non-partisanship plan, said that the idea was to have the two highest candidates at the primaries for an office stand as the two candidates in the election. There would be no party names or labels (to show their principles) and the voters would have to choose hetween the two, therefore, said Desmoud, the will of the majority would be freely expressed. But what if a large fraction of the voters refrained from voting because neither candidate represented their particular ideas? Majority rule, indeed! At hest the plan would be to confine the voters and to canse them to vote blindly.

Non-partisan elections would be a great help to the newspapers, as the non-partisan candidates would have to buy flieir names into public knowledge in order to stand any show whatever at the polls. Why, if someone nominated Sapolio, it would get many old party votes because it has been advertised so much that it is a familiar name.

We senture to say that if Attorney Desmond wanted to run for the legislature again and escape a repetition of his former defeat he would stand no show if Sapolio was running against him.

Or, let us suppose that some other icliow was running against him.

Or, let us suppose that some other icliow was running against him.

Or, let us suppose that some other icliow was running against him, and he (Desmond) went to Charley Pfister for funds—a case of supposition, this time, of course—so as to adverting the party water with publicate. maries for an office stand as the candidates in the election.
